

Nina and Dean Cornett in the mountains of Letcher County, Kentucky.

Thanks to the Cornetts who are matching 1:1, all gifts to Sustainable Berea.

Your membership dues and other contributions will be doubled! Help SB to foster a more resilient community.

Dean and Nina Cornett, who live in Alaska and Eastern Kentucky, have worked tirelessly for the past 20 years on issues related to education, the environment, and conservation. In Alaska they focus on projects related to Salmon restoration, forest preservation, and grizzly bear protection. In Letcher County, they are working for the enforcement of laws against timber theft and they are promoting ecotourism as an alternative to an economy based on resource extraction.

Dean and Nina have promoted clean water, supported recycling programs, created city parks, and laid out forest trails designed for children and adult education. They also produce films and support educational projects that educate people about the mountains, the bear population, and the American Chestnut project. The Cornetts also work diligently to change legislation and influence public policy.

Extraordinary philanthropists, devoted to improving the quality of life and protecting the environment, the Cornetts both attended Berea College and support environmental programs at schools and colleges in Kentucky, including Berea College. “We are happy to help Sustainable Berea,” Dean said. “Your work brings townspeople to the sustainability efforts which enhances the environmental studies being taught at the college.”

New Data Base for SB membership

Sustainable Berea has purchased a new data base to help us better stay in touch with our members. The enclosed list provides the contact details and gifts we have recorded for you. Please let us know if our records are incorrect. All gifts to Sustainable Berea are fully tax deductible as SB is a 501(c)3 non-profit.

Join us at the 1st annual membership meeting – the PERC Brunch

Thank you for your time, talent and financial support. We invite you to join us for another year and we enclose a return envelope for your updated membership. If your membership is not yet due, you can still renew now and we will credit your membership for 12 months from the upcoming renewal date. You may also renew your membership at the PERC Brunch.